NOTES

This walk is 6.3 km, mostly on a firm, sealed shared path along Darebin Creek, well-signed and with rest stops along the way.

It could be walked in either direction, starting from either Alphington Station or Northland Shopping Centre.

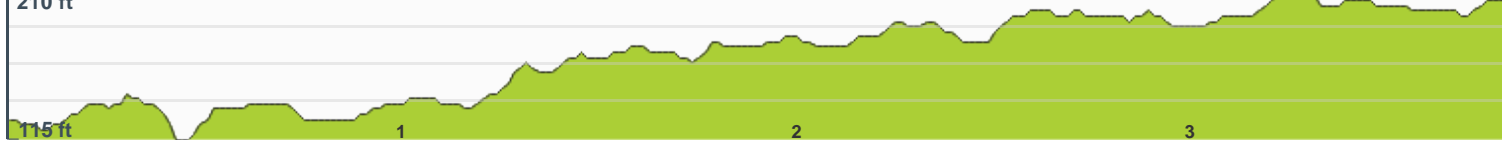

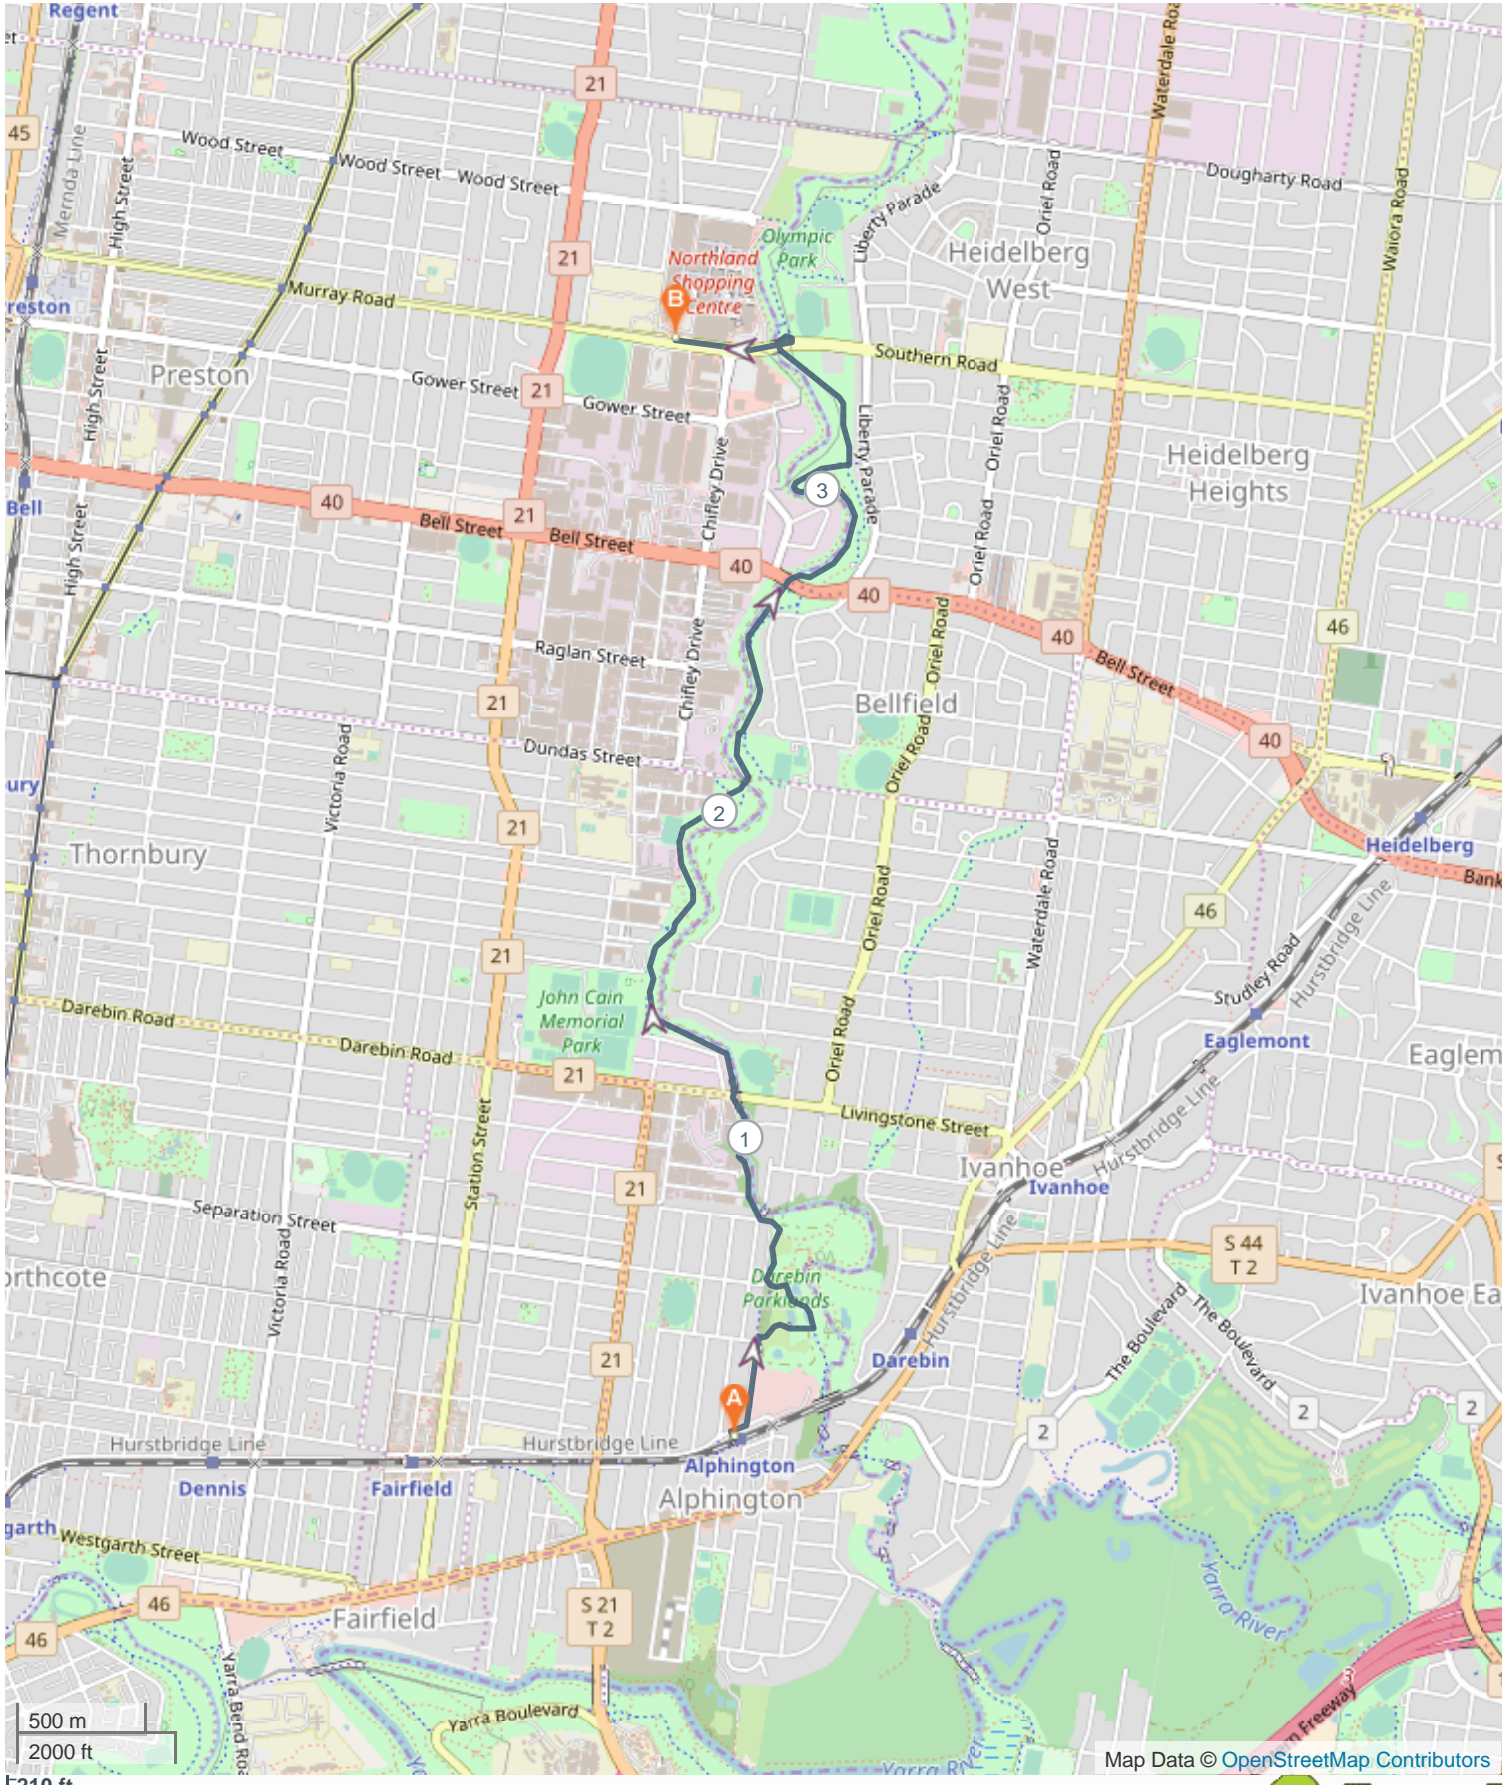

From Alphington Station, head north along the walking path beside Yarana Rd, which leads into Darebin Parklands and joins onto the Darebin Creek Trail near the Park Office. From here the trail continues through the Parklands; at the north end of the park it drops down alongside the Darebin Creek.

While the path continues along the creek all the way to Murray Rd near the Northland Shopping Centre, there are various points where you can leave the trail if you wish. These alternative exit points include the path and footbridge to the right just after leaving Darebin Parklands, where you can walk up to the Ivanhoe shops, approx 1.5km away. Other exit points include the road bridge at Darebin Rd / Livingstone St, as well as various side paths into Thornbury between Darebin Rd and Bell St and into Bellfield just before leaving Bell St.

The best public transport connections however, are at the start and finish points at Alphington Station and Murray Road at Northland.
